The PIFF Future Filmmakers Felix Awards

CALL FOR ENTRIES!

Students between in grades 7-12 from across U.S. and abroad! Enter your teen-produced and directed short videos in the Future Filmmakers Felix Awards, as part of the Plymouth Independent Film Festival (PIFF '07). A jury will select the films to be shown during the Plymouth Independent Film Festival between July 18 - 22, 2007. Three expert judges will award prizes for categories including Best Film, which will win a PIFF Award, and be featured in the PIFF Shorts program at the Radisson Hotel during the festival. All PIFF Future Filmmaker Felix Award Winners are then eligible to enter into the PIFF International Student Short Competition for a Grand Prize. Visit www.plyfilmfest.org for more details.

OFFICIAL RULES:

- Films must be produced and directed by students in grades 7 through 12.
- Films may not be more than 20 minutes long. No geographic limitation on entries.

- Please include cast/credit information, a brief synopsis of your film, and a production photo (photo or standard image file on CD).
- Entry and release forms MUST accompany submissions.

Forms will be available online at www.plyfilmfest.org, at the Duxbury Public Library, and participating libraries and schools. For more information, call Ellen at 781-934-2721 x106.

The Future Filmmakers Felix Awards Night will be a glamorous Hollywood-esque affair, so dust off your campy gown or Brad-worthy outfit to attend as either as an entrant or as an enthusiastic audience member. This event is a reincarnation of the old South Shore Video Contest. This program is sponsored by the Friends of the Duxbury Free Library and the Plymouth Independent Film Festival.
